Why Oxford Brookes?

There are so many great reasons for you to choose Oxford Brookes. Here are just a few for you to consider...

Academic excellence and strong industry links

As a postgraduate student at Oxford Brookes, you'll learn from academics who are experts in their field and you'll have opportunities to conduct your own original research. We nurture our links with local businesses and research communities. This gives you first-hand expertise that you can put into practice and apply to real-life situations.

A famous city

You'll be living and learning in the heart of a knowledge economy, where research, technology, science and motorsports are thriving. Add to that a healthy arts and culture scene with museums and galleries round most corners, you won't fail to be inspired.

Student support

We provide support for your academic and personal development – from your dedicated academic adviser, Student Support Co-ordinators to specialist teams – we will help you fulfil your potential.

A diverse community

19% of our students are international from more than 140 countries (HESA 2021/22).

Modern facilities

You'll have access to some outstanding learning spaces and resources, from state-of-the-art library facilities and archive collections to specialist resources. We go beyond the ordinary, providing a rich tapestry of resources to enhance your academic journey.

Green spaces

Oxford Brookes has the perfect balance – modern campuses surrounded by green spaces, set in the middle of a vibrant city. We are committed to ensuring that environmental sustainability is central to our decision making, as set out in our 2035 University Strategy.

“I’ve absolutely loved Oxford. I've loved the parks and the city centre. It's quite historic. There's so much to see.”

Learning resources

Oxford is one of Europe's major cultural, educational, scientific and technological centres, making it the perfect city in which to reach your academic potential. As a student at Oxford Brookes you'll have access to everything you need to make the most of your time here.

Whether you're looking for a quiet place to work individually or a group meeting room, our libraries offer a variety of study environments to support your postgraduate studies. You will have:

- 24/7 year-round access to our electronic library, including thousands of e-journals, ebooks and other online resources
- 24/7 opening hours during semester at our Oxford-based campus libraries
- print books, past dissertations and Special Collections and Archives, including the Booker Prize Archive, Paul Oliver Archive of African American Music and the National Brewing Library.

In addition, our knowledgeable and supportive library staff are here to help you search for journal articles, books and other information resources to support your coursework and research – in person, in class or through our online chat service.

We have over 1,000 open access computers across the University, and free Chromebook laptops on campus that you can borrow to support your studies.

Located near to over 1,400 hi-tech firms and a number of science parks, Oxford Brookes has developed strong links with organisations in business, publishing, hospitality and engineering. This provides you with opportunities to develop professional connections whilst you study.

We also offer mentoring schemes in different subject areas, matching you with a senior figure from industry who shares their experience and guidance to help enhance your professional development.

Oxford Brookes staff and students can also access the Bodleian Library, the main research library of the University of Oxford. The Bodleian Library is one of the oldest libraries in Europe, and in Britain is second in size only to the British Library. It is also famously featured in the Harry Potter movie franchise.

“I feel like I’m learning something useful that I’m going to be using in my career every single day.”

Oxford: a city for students

Study in a historical city based in the centre of England, world-famous for academic excellence and striking architecture. Oxford promises a memorable student experience, with plenty of opportunities to build connections and achieve your goals.

Inspiration every day

Steeped in history with an exciting mix of cultures, Oxford is an inspirational student city. It is also one of Europe's major educational, scientific and technological centres. The city's libraries, museums and creative venues will inspire your ideas and challenge your thinking.

Beautiful outdoor spaces

Oxford has plenty of wonderful green spaces, parks and waterways. Hire a punt to admire the stunning architecture of the city from a different angle, or escape the city to explore nearby Waterperry Gardens, Blenheim Palace and the Cotswolds.

Something for everyone

Explore the cobbled streets, take in the magnificent architecture, visit one of the local pubs or try international cuisine. Whatever your interests are, you'll find something for you in Oxford.

Well-connected

Oxford is centrally located in England, and is well-connected to the rest of the country. Whether you want to visit home, spend the day in London or explore other cities like Bath or Bristol, you can hop on a bus or train and be there in a few hours.

“Oxford is very vibrant. It is small, but there's always something going on. I really love the architecture and the entire history behind it. I think that's what makes Oxford. I also love the Oxford Brookes premises here, it's very modern.”

MELINE, FRANCE,
MSc INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS MANAGEMENT AND FINANCE

We have over 70+ student-led societies – a great way to meet new people and learn new skills.

Student life

Being a student at Oxford Brookes means so much more than just studying – join a society, get active as part of a sports club and socialise with like-minded students. There's so much to make your time with us truly memorable.

Brookes Union

Brookes Union provides unique opportunities for students to meet new people and try different things, empowering you to create your own University journey. Brookes Union offers support through:

Representation

We support a community of student volunteers known as student reps, who dedicate their time across the academic year to represent the views of students within their faculty, or on their course.

Campaigning

Whether you want to launch a campaign or engage in something already in motion, we support students to make positive change by encouraging student-led campaigning. We're here to not only campaign on your behalf, but to empower you to make change yourself.

Communities

Our 70+ societies are at the heart of Brookes Union, offering many ways to get involved in student groups in a variety of areas, from hobbies and interests to faith and culture and course-based societies. Our student-led networks also provide a space where students with marginalised identities can share experiences, create change through collective action and promote a sense of community.

Advice

The Union supports students with a free, confidential Advice Service independent from the University. Its dedicated team of advisers can provide you with impartial advice and guidance, and can help you with University processes such as exceptional circumstances, appeals and complaints.

Brookes Sport

Sport is a central part of life at Oxford Brookes. At Brookes Sport, we are proud of our inclusive range of activities and initiatives allowing you to get active, compete or simply socialise. These include:

- group exercise and wellness classes
- opportunities for student-athletes
- recreational sport and activities
- Oxfordshire's premier climbing wall
- excellent gyms, a boathouse, courts, pitches, sports bar and more.

We offer a range of discounted membership packages to students, as well as pay-as-you-go options for the gym, classes, climbing and courts.

“There's a strong international presence of students here. I really love that all the people I come into contact with come from so many different places and have a wealth of experience and culture to share.”

Research degrees

Research at Oxford Brookes enjoys an international reputation, attracting high-quality staff and students as well as major funded projects.

A research degree from Oxford Brookes will help you develop your skills and discover new concepts, while also adding to the knowledge base of the academic community.

As a research student you will join a vibrant and supportive environment and benefit from expert supervision. You will also have access to a strong programme of research training led centrally by the Oxford Brookes Graduate College, and in each faculty through their Doctoral Training Programmes. Together they organise research methodology courses and seminars, careers planning and advice.

Each of our academic departments and schools is engaged in a diverse range of research activities. Much of our research is carried out within our research centres, many of which have built national and international reputations, such as the Oxford Institute for Sustainable Development and the Centre for Movement, Occupational and Rehabilitation Sciences.

For a full list of research areas within each school and department, please visit the departmental pages on our website.

We have 800+ experts addressing the major global challenges facing society, the economy and technology. For more information, contact researchenrolment@brookes.ac.uk

Pathways courses

Our pathways courses help you prepare for your chosen postgraduate degree whilst becoming accustomed to university life. Our main goal is to get you on to your master's degree feeling prepared, confident and excited. If you pass with sufficient grades, you will be guaranteed a place on your chosen degree.

Pre-sessional English

Our pre-sessional English courses help you meet the language requirements of your degree and can be combined with Pre-Master's courses.

Pre-sessional English is taught in 6-12 week blocks. You can take consecutive course blocks until you reach the level required for your degree course.

Why choose a pre-sessional English course at Oxford Brookes?

- Develop your academic English skills in reading, writing, speaking and listening.
- Learn how to research, critique and analyse your work.
- Meet the English language requirements to study your chosen degree.

Which level of pre-sessional English should I take?

If you need IELTS 6.0 with 6.0 in reading and writing, 5.5 in speaking and listening:

Course fees vary depending on entry point and length of course.

Please see our website for more information about Pre-sessional English.

Pre-Master's courses

If you do not meet the minimum academic requirements for our postgraduate courses, you can apply to progress to your chosen master's through one of our Pre-Master's programmes.

These courses are designed to develop your subject knowledge, study skills and academic language level in preparation for your master's degree. You can choose from one or two semesters depending on your needs.

Why choose a Pre-Master's course at Oxford Brookes?

- Once you enrol, you will have a guaranteed pathway to your master's by passing with appropriate grades.
- Study from 12-24 weeks depending on your needs.
- You will have a personal academic adviser to support your studies and work with you individually on your development.

| Course | Duration | Start dates | IELTS required |
|---|---|--|--|
| Pre-Master's Certificate: Study Skills | 1 semester | January | 7.0 (6.5 in all skills) or native/near-native speaker |
| Pre-Master's Certificate: English Language and Study Skills | 1 semester | September, January or May (Distance Learning available in May) | 6.0 (6.0 in reading and writing and 5.5 in other skills) |
| Pre-Master's Diploma: English Language and Study Skills | 2 semesters | September or January | 5.5 (5.5 in each skill) |
| Two-Year Master's Degree | 2 years (Pre-Master's followed by master's on one application and one visa) | September or January | 5.5 (5.5 in each skill) |

Course fees vary depending on entry point and length of course.

Please see our website for more information about Pre-Master's courses.

January entry

We understand that starting a degree in September isn't practical for everyone. That's why a wide range of our postgraduate programmes start in January providing you with the flexibility to begin your studies at a time that works best for you.

How it works

Starting your postgraduate degree in January means you will follow the same course structure as the courses which start in September. All of our courses are made up of both compulsory and optional modules, which makes it easy to tailor the programme to your requirements.

We offer January starts for a range of postgraduate taught, distance learning and postgraduate research courses.

More information

Each postgraduate course page sets out whether the course is available for January entry.

If your course has a January start option, your application should be submitted directly via the course page. The deadline for international applications for January 2026 entry will be confirmed in the Autumn of 2025.

Placements and industry experience

Our postgraduate courses are designed to help you forge a successful career in your chosen field. Through hands-on learning you will develop the professional skills and exposure needed to advance your career.

Placement or professional practice modules provide a valuable opportunity to gain much sought-after experience within an industry or job role that supports your future career ambitions. Placements enhance your skills to help you achieve a better degree and therefore increase your chances of getting an appropriate graduate role in your chosen career.

Many of our courses offer professional practice or placement modules. We have dedicated placement teams in each of our faculties that can provide advice on finding your own placements.

“All the practical exposure that I’m getting during placement is really rewarding, to see that you’re doing something that’s actually making a change, helping someone. So when I go to sleep at night I feel content and worthy of what I’m doing on a daily basis.”

LUTHFA, SAUDI ARABIA, MSC MIDWIFERY

How to apply

Ready to take the next step in your postgraduate journey? Now is the time to apply! Most of our courses accept applications throughout the year, however some have application deadlines. You should submit your application as early as possible as some courses may fill up quickly. You can still submit your application even if you have not yet been awarded your degree or other entry qualifications. However, please check our course pages for full entry requirements before you apply.

Postgraduate courses

You should apply directly to the university if you are applying for a:

- taught master's degree
- postgraduate diploma or certificate
- professional course.

Please check the details of the course you are interested in to find which application deadline applies to you. Apply direct.

Postgraduate research courses

You should apply directly to the university for postgraduate research courses. You will need to contact the relevant postgraduate research tutor to discuss your proposal informally before you apply.
